IBC233 Review 3

1.  How would you get to a menu called SAVE?

2.  Which function key will show you all the keywords for a command in the command entry screen in client access?  How do you see keywords in RDi?

3.  What is the CL command to execute a program?

4.  What are the parts or the library list?

5.  How does the system i build your library list? What happens to it when you sign off?

6.  The command to show system libraries in your library list. The command that a user can sets current library of the user and this setting will work each time when the user signs on.

7.  Is a library list an object?

8.  What is the difference between the CRTPF command and the CHGPF command?

9.  Where does the system i store objects if you don't specify?

10. Where does it store an object if it is unable to access the current library?

11. Can you print spooled files on your PC printer at home using Client Access?

12. What is the keyword notation syntax to Work With all of the Program objects in IBC233LIB using PDM.

```
        Work with Objects Using PDM (WRKOBJPDM)

Library  . . . . . . . . . . . . LIB           *PRV
Object . . . . . . . . . . . . . OBJ           *ALL
Object type  . . . . . . . . . . OBJTYPE       *ALL
Object attribute . . . . . . . . OBJATR        *ALL
```

13.	Write the Keyword Notation to Monitor for the Message CPF0864.  If the message is found, the command, GoTo CmdLabel End should be executed.

14.	Write the command to check IF the contents of the variable &IN43 is equal to character '1'.  IF this condition is true, then change the contents of the variable &IN43 to have a character '0' in it.

15.	Write the Keyword notation to retrieve your Initial program to call from your user profile.

16.	Write the keyword notation to retrieve the initial program to call from the userid DS233C40.